

Free Kid's Camps

December 28, 29, & 30

1:00—4:00pm

Ages 6 & up (under 6 with parent)

Track Identification Camp December 28, 2015 1:00 - 4:00pm

This fun kid's camp will have your kids learning how to identify, age, find, and follow animal tracks. Part of the time will be spent indoors learning about local animal species, identifying track features, classifying which animals are herbivores, carnivores, or omnivores. The second half of the afternoon will be out in the field finding and identifying animal tracks. Be sure to dress appropriately for being outside. Proper footwear, hats, mittens, and jackets are required.

Survival Camp (Session I) December 29, 2015 1:00 - 4:00pm

Survival Camp (Session I) will teach kids the basic skills to prevent getting lost, as well as the skills to keep them safe and to help find their way out if lost. Safety, orienteering skills, games in addition to compass and map reading will be presented in a fun and informative manner. The Survival Camp will take place both indoors and outdoors, be sure to dress appropriately for being outside. Proper footwear, hats, mittens, and jackets are required.

Survival Camp (Session II) December 30, 2015 1:00 - 4:00pm

Survival Camp (Session II) will teach kids the important skill of water finding, collecting, and purification. In addition, the kids will learn both primitive and modern fire building techniques. The Survival Camp will take place both indoors and outdoors, be sure to dress appropriately for being outside. Proper footwear, hats, mittens, and jackets are required.

Pre-registration is required. For more information, or to sign up, please call or visit the Front Desk.

www.goldeneagleresort.com • 802-253-4811 • info@goldeneagleresort.com